GUIDANCE ON DEVELOPING YOUR SCHOOL HEALTH AND SAFETY POLICY

INTRODUCTION

What is a health and safety statement?

Your health and safety statement sets out how you implement NYCC Corporate and Children and Young People's (CYPS) health and safety policy, and how you manage health and safety in your school. It is a unique document that shows who does what; and when and how they do it.

This is an example of a statement that you can use, fill in and keep in your school. However, you do not have to use this document or format. You are free to record and store the information in any form you choose. This format gives you an idea of the kind of information you need to record.

Why do I need a health and safety statement?

The health and safety statement is your starting point in managing health and safety in the workplace. By law, Employers (i.e. the LEA in Community and Voluntary Controlled Schools, or the Governing Body of Voluntary Aided and Foundation Schools) must have a written policy on health and safety at work. Each school should also produce their own statement giving details of the arrangements for putting the employers' policy into practice.

Writing a health and safety statement is more than just a legal requirement – it is your commitment to planning and managing health and safety. It is the key to achieving acceptable standards, reducing accidents and cases of work-related ill health and it shows your employees that you care for their health and safety.

Who should do what?

The main responsibility for health and safety rests with the Local Education Authority, the Head Teacher and the Governing Body, although employees and the self-employed also have duties.

However, many day-to-day tasks may be delegated. Your statement should show clearly how these tasks are allocated, but remember that there is still ultimate responsibility on the LEA, Governors and Head Teacher.

Governors and Head Teachers should consult their staff (through safety representatives, if any) about the statement. Everyone should be able to see from the statement exactly who is responsible for different things, such as advice, reporting an accident, and first aid.

When and how should they do it?

Your statement should describe your arrangements, i.e. the systems and procedures you have in place for ensuring employees' health and safety.

You may wish to refer to other documents e.g., schools' rules, safety checklists, LEA Circulars, training programmes, emergency instructions, etc. All employees may not need to see the other documents, but they must see the statement itself.

How often do I need to revise the statement?

It should be reviewed and possibly revised in the light of experience, or because of operational or organisational changes. It is useful to review the statement regularly (e.g. annually).

Do I have to do anything else?

Yes, you have other legal duties under other legislation. In particular, under the Management of Health and Safety at Work Regulations 1999, you have to assess the risks arising from your work activities and record the significant findings. You also have to record your arrangements for health and safety. There will also be other specific legislation that will apply.

Remember: What you write into the statement has to be put into practice. The true test of a health and safety policy is the actual conditions in the workplace, not how well the statement is written.

How to use this guidance

This guidance is split into three parts. It contains a statement of intent to adhere to the employer's policy, as required by the Health and Safety at Work Act 1974. Then you can record your organisational responsibilities and your arrangements to ensure the health and safety of employees at your school. Notes are included alongside each section to help you. Some useful publications are listed in the notes and at the end of this guidance.

Insert the name of the Headteacher and the Chair of Governors, (or the Governor with responsibility for health and safety).

Day to day responsibility for ensuring this policy is put into practice is delegated to:

Deputy headteacher (in absence of Headteacher)

Caretaker – Steve Page

If the Headteacher is not always there, or does not have time to manage on a day-to-day basis, you can delegate this role to someone else, e.g. Deputy Headteacher, Head of Year, and Premises Officer etc. Ensure that the person with overall responsibility is kept informed of health and safety matters – it will still be their overall responsibility

To ensure health and safety standards are maintained/improved, the following people have responsibility in the following areas:

Name: Christina Zanelli
Responsibility: Day to day management; strategic management; liaison with NYCC; reporting to the Governing Body.

Name: Mark Burnett
Responsibility: Strategic management; representative of the Governing Body.

Name: Caretaker
Responsibility: Monitoring of site safety; reporting to the headteacher.

Name: Deputy headteacher
Responsibility: Deputising for the headteacher in their absence.

Delegate functions to people within your organisation either by specific areas within the workplace or by topic. Include their specific responsibilities in their job descriptions (if they have one).

Ensure that they are competent to undertake their health and safety responsibilities and have adequate resources to enable them to do their job properly.

It is important that responsibilities are clearly set out – this will make sure that if there are any health and safety concerns they can be reported to the right person, so they can be dealt with.

You may wish to insert a diagram or chart showing your management structure/arrangements.

Specific responsibilities for head teachers, managers, heads of departments and staff can be found in the NYCC Corporate Health & Safety Policy which can be found in:

Employees have legal responsibilities to take care of the health and safety of themselves and others, and to co-operate with management to help comply with the law.

The School Office

Equally, if employees have any concerns over health and safety issues, they should be clear about whom they should tell, so that concerns can be addressed.

All employees have to:

- co-operate with supervisors and managers on health and safety matters;
- not interfere with anything provided to safeguard their health and safety;
- take reasonable care of their own health and safety; and
- report all health and safety concerns to an appropriate person (as detailed in this policy statement).

Checks that the implemented actions have removed/reduced the risks will be carried out by:

NOTE

You must assess risks to the health and safety of anyone who may be affected by your work activities, so that you can weigh up whether you have done enough or need to do more to comply with the law.

You will find some examples of key areas that you should consider, at the end of this guidance.

You will need to involve a number of different people including your safety representatives and employees, to do the risk assessments.

You will need to record the significant findings of your risk assessments in a separate document. Your policy statement only records your arrangements for ensuring the assessments are done, and are kept up to date.

Once you have done your risk assessments, you must take the necessary action to remove or reduce the risk as far as is reasonably practicable.

NOTE

You must be able to show that you are checking working conditions and systems of work, i.e. that you are monitoring health and safety.

You can do these both actively and reactively, i.e. before and after something goes wrong.

Actively - you or other appointed person can carry out inspections, have reports submitted to you by managers, do spot check visits, safety representative inspections, etc.

Trade union safety reps have the right to carry out inspections and investigate accidents.

Reactively - you can investigate any accidents or sickness absences that occur.

The person responsible for investigating accidents is:
